About me

- Since 2003 I have integrated coaching firmly into my professional activities. The promotion of teams and individuals through active coaching is part of my leadership competence.
- In 2015 I have completed an in-house training as a mentor and performed this task for three years.
- I have profound knowledge of the Swiss-German job market. I accompany people competently and with commitment in the realization of their goals.
- Due to my 30 years of experience, I have a very high level of competence in mediation and conflict resolution.
- Distinctive social competence as well as the ability to solve conflicts and the solution-oriented handling of crisis are very helpful to me in dealing with people and changes.
- As a communicative and result-oriented personality, I understand how to lead people and convince contractual partners.
